LIGHT ON MYSTERY.

How Equitable Loan Was Employed.

Political Contributions Made and Annoying Litigation is Settled.

Jerome Asks for a Special Grand Jury to Investigate Society.

Three Large Insurance Companies of New York to Have a Hearing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald says that although the legislative committee appointed to investigate insurance methods has hardly got to work, light is beginning to break already through the mystery which has veiled the $685,000 loan.

From an authoritative source, it was learned today not only that portions of the fund carried under the fluctuating account "were used for payment of political contributions to both great parties and that other sums were deducted from it for lobbying expenses and for the settlement out of court of annoying litigation, but also that a considerable share of the total was used for the purchase of eighty-nine shares of the stock of the Equitable at the then market rates, which varied from $4000 to $5000 a share.

The purpose of this purchase was to prevent these outstanding shares "from falling into undesirable hands," and it is believed the officers of the society, or persons active in their interest took this course to prevent any considerable portion of the stock from becoming the property of persons who might, as stockholders, bring troublesome suits for accounting, or for the partition of the surplus in the interest of policy holders.

If, as Henry C. Deming, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, understood and so testified before Commissioner Hendricks, this was really a loan made to the Equitable, then the use of any portion of it for such a purpose is declared to have been illegal.

JEROME'S SPECIAL GRAND JURY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—District Attorney Jerome told Justice Davy, in the criminal branch of the New York State Supreme Court today, that he might need a special grand jury to investigate the Equitable Life Assurance Society's affairs before the legislative committee has finished its investigation of its conditions, which is soon to begin.

The court has been kept sitting to await possible action by Jerome. He informed it today that he was not certain whether he would want the special jury or not, and would not ask for it now, but requested the court to adjourn to September 11th, which it did. In the meantime, he said, any justice of the court could grant the order for a special jury.

INTERSTATE INQUIRY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Three large insurance companies of New York are to be investigated by the insurance commission of Tennessee, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Minnesota, as a result of a meeting of eight State insurance commissioners held here today. Another result of the conference is to be the interstate investigation of all large insurance companies, so that alleged misapplication of funds and mismanagement may become a thing of the past.

WANTED TO BE SHOWN MORE.

Thousand Dollars Apiece Not Enough for Missouri Men Who Looked After Alum Bill.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Aug. 2.—Taking of testimony was begun today in the trial of Senator Frank H. Farris on the charge of bribery. Former Lieut.-Gov. John A. Lee was called to the stand. He testified that Senator Farris came to him during the executive session of 1901 and said that the House and Senate bills for the repeal of the law prohibiting the use of alum in the manufacture of baking powder could be smothered in committee. Later, Farris came to him, he testified, and said the bills would never be reported from the committee for the sum of $7000, making $1000 for each member of the Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, except Senator Dowell, who was not in the deal.

Lee testified that Farris asked him to refer the matter to D. J. Kelly of New York, and that he wrote a letter to Kelly, informing him of Farris's suggestion. Kelly telegraphed him to communicate with him(Kelly) over the long-distance telephone and he did so. Attorneys for the defense objected to this conversation being repeated. Judge Davis sent the jury from the room and the attorneys on both sides argued the point. The case was continued until the noon recess.

ZIONIST CONGRESS CLOSES.

Max Nordau Eloquently Felicitates Switzerland Upon Her National Anniversary.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BASLE (Switzerland,) Aug. 2.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Zionist Congress today enthusiastically received Max Nordau's eloquent felicitations of Switzerland upon the celebration of the anniversary of the founding of the federation.

A memorial was presented from the Grand Lodge of the Sons of Israel in the United States, saying that while they were not affiliated with Zionism, they were prepared to coöperate in the establishment of a Jewish fatherland. Rabbi Reins, leader of the Misrahist element, declared that his group adhered to the views of the congress.

Several German delegates requested and obtained the consent of the congress to present arguments favoring Jewish colonization outside Palestine, bringing out a request from Rev. Dr. Magnes of Brooklyn, N. Y., for a ruling by the chair as to whether Sunday's decision favorable to Palestine was binding on all the delegates, to which the chairman acceded.

Meanwhile, the Socialist section definitely seceded from the orthodox Zionists, the object being to find suitable territory; part from Palestine for the foundation of a colony.

The congress, after accepting reports of committees on proposed alterations in the statutes, was brought to a close this afternoon with the election of the executive committee, on which Dr. Henry Friedenwald, Tewin Epistine, Cyro Sulzberger, Solo Horovitch, Dr. Magnes and Dr. Harry, represent the United States.

Dr. Frommenson, on behalf of the American delegates, amid scenes of enthusiasm, presented to the congress the Zionist national banner from the St. Louis Exposition.

TALKED LAWS TO THE CHIEF.

ATTY.-GEN. MOODY'S VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT.

Variety of Other Topics Were Discussed, Including the Declination of Cotton to Catch on in Oregon. Scandals in the Military Department Occupying Attention.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OYSTER BAY (L. I.) Atty.-Gen. Moody, who came here yesterday to visit the President, left today for Washington to give personal attention to the inquiries being made into the scandals in the military department. Mr. Moody also discussed with the President a variety of other topics. The declination of W. W. Cotton to accept the appointment of United States District Judge for the District of Oregon was taken up, but no agreement was reached as to a further appointment. Judge Cotton did not qualify after his appointment, simply indicating to the President that, on account of his private business arrangements, he found himself unable to accept the tender of office.

Mr. Moody said that he and the President considered at yesterday's general discussion of the laws, the bearings of the United States to special cases and the amendments of criminal laws of the United States. They agreed, he said, that Congress ought to make certain amendments to the existing statutes, as the laws under which the courts are now operating render it often difficult to reach a man who might be guilty of wrongdoing.

As an illustration of this, Mr. Moody said it was far more difficult to take a man from one United States court's jurisdiction into another United States court's jurisdiction than it is for the State of Maine to get a criminal wanted from the State of California.

CONSPIRED TO CONCEAL DEATH.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Contest over the estate of the late John L. Norton, broker and politician, has been opened by Mrs. Florence Moffatt Norton with a charge that Norton's half-sister, Isabelle Canterburg, and C. B. Scumaker, a cousin, were engaged in a conspiracy to conceal the death of Col. Norton and to defraud Mrs. Norton of widow's rights in the $500,000 estate. Mrs. Norton recently arrived in Chicago from California. She brought her two daughters, Cecile and Marie, with her.

WOOD HOPES TO GO BACK.

The General Has a Sincere Wish to Stay Two Years in the Philippines.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Aug. 2.—Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., who returned from his command in the Philippines, a few weeks ago, for a slight operation on his head, said today: "I understand there have been rumors of my intention not to return to the Philippines. I want to say that I sincerely wish to go back, and intend to do so in about a month. I expect to spend two more years in the islands."

THAT LITTLE MATTER OF PRIVATE BUSINESS.

Clark Road and Espee Agreed on a Pro-rata Arrangement.

Salt Lake Line is Permitted to Do Business in Southern California—Can Make Itself at Home on Southern Pacific Tracks, and Exchange at Los Angeles or Elsewhere.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The traffic officials who have been in attendance at the conference of the question of the Salt Lake road's demand for a traffic arrangement with the Southern Pacific held another meeting today, and fixed up the matter of details of the arrangement decided on Tuesday. It is announced that the deal which secures to the Clark road the right to exchange business with the Southern Pacific in the southern part of the State amounts merely to a pro-rating arrangement, similar to that existing between other railroads throughout the country.

The important result of the three days' conference is that the Clark road has obtained a traffic alliance, under which it will be able to exchange business with the Southern Pacific. The terms of the deal are set forth in the pro-rating arrangement which the two roads consider is a matter of private business, and which is, therefore, not given to the public.

"Under the new arrangement, the Salt Lake road will participate in all the traffic of Southern California," said one of the officials who has taken an active part in the conference. "In Los Angeles, where the Salt Lake's terminal facilities are somewhat inadequate, its cars will be loaded and unloaded on the Southern Pacific tracks. They will be switched to and from all industries on Southern Pacific rails, and the new line will be afforded a means of sharing in all of the traffic of Southern California.

"It will exchange traffic with the Southern Pacific at Los Angeles, or at any other point that may be more convenient. It is merely a pro-rating arrangement, the terms of which are, of course, private matter as between the two roads."

TAPPING RICH COUNTRY.

ESPEE'S WORK IN OREGON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 2.—The Southern Pacific Company made an official announcement of its intention to build a branch leaving the main line at Drain, Or., running westerly along the Umpqua River to Gardner, a point near the mouth of the Umpqua and thence south to Marshfield, on Coos Bay.

According to General Manager J. P. O'Brien of the Harriman lines, who left for Southern Oregon today, active work of construction will begin as soon as the work of surveying the route, which is now in progress, has been completed. The road will be standard gauge, and will have the highest grade of equipment.

Drain, the point from which the branch starts, is 165 miles south of Portland. The new road will be eighty-one miles in length. It will tap a country which is completely undeveloped, owing to lack of rail transportation. It possesses perhaps the largest timber belt in the world, has rich agricultural possibilities, and is a mining center, both for gold and coal. John D. Spreckels of San Francisco owns several large mines of the latter ore near Coos Bay.

NEW MEXICO LINE.

ELEVEN MILLIONS OF CAPITAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Canadian and American capitalists are interested in the new railway in Mexico to be called the Morelia and Tacambara Road. The capital is $11,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is in first-mortgage 5 per cent. bonds and $6,000,000 stock, in shares of $50 each. The line will run north and south from Irapuato, in the State of Guanajuato, to Puruandiro, in the State of Michoacan.

HILL NOT SUMMONED.

STRIKE DOESN'T WORRY N. P.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The local officers of the Northern Pacific today positively denied that J. J. Hill, who is with his family in the Adirondacks, had been called west by the telegraphers' strike. The strike had been brewing for a long time, but the company has plenty of men to fill all vacancies, and the results were minimized in advance.

AUTOMATIC 'PHONES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Atlantic Telephone Company, of which George Mitchell of the Mitchell Mining Company, is one of the organizers, has completed plans for placing 200,000 initial automatic telephones in New York City. The present capital is $5,000,000 but it will be increased to $25,000,000 and the plans cover Jersey City, in addition to Greater New York, all to be connected with independent companies throughout the East.

The rate for Greater New York will be 5 cents, instead of 10 cents, for Manhattan and 15 cents for the Boroughs of Brooklyn and the Bronx, as at present. The machines will be of the "nickle-in-the slot" variety, which have given such satisfactory service in San Francisco and other California cities.

BEST WIRELESS RECORD YET.

HONOLULU, Aug. 2.—The transport Solace, which has arrived here, reports having had successful wireless communication with Honolulu while 160 miles from here. This is the best wireless record ever reported here. The Solace will depart next Saturday and will begin trying to get into communication with San Francisco while 500 miles out, that being the distance at which the Solace first attempted to communicate with Honolulu.

MRS. MACKAY WON.

ROSLYN (N. Y.) Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Clarence Mackay, after one of the most remarkable political campaigns ever recorded, was elected school trustee today. It was a fight between the "Progressives" and the "Mossbacks," and progress won, 253 to 51. The women could vote, and Mrs. Mackay's auto was an irresistible and Mrs. Mackey's auto was an irresistbranded Mrs. Mackay's aspiration as "cheeky."

MORGAN'S GORGEOUSNESS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. P. Morgan got back from Europe today with his ton of English duds and improved English accent. "J. P." wore a Panama hat and a tie of gorgeous hue, which created a sensation. He said he had nothing to say and if the reporters had anything to tell him they could come to his office.

SHOWING "MELICANS" HOW TO HUSTLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Aug. 2.—Among the passengers who arrived by the steamer Empress of Japan, today, were two wealthy Chinese merchants, Lo Man Loung and Chan Chin Man, who are bound for Washington to discuss Chinese American trade matters with special relation to the boycott now being enforced against American goods in China, with the Chinese minister at Washington.

In an interview, one of the Chinese said that although they had no official standing, they wished to lay certain matters with regard to the difficulties that had arisen before the Chinese legation in the United States. Lo Man Loung said there was a strong feeling at present growing in force in the coast cities of China for a union with Japan.

GATHERING OF CLANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VICTORIA, Aug. 2.—Although arrivals from China state the boycott against American goods is not a serious menace, the newspapers are filled with reports of anti-American mentions and gatherings of guilds, bodies of students and others to furnish the boycott.

The Peking Commercial Guild has drawn up a special paper, and millions of copies are to be circulated to give publicity to the boycott. The guild, with representatives from every Chinese province but Fukien, has made an agreement that no member will purchase American goods, on pain of a large fine.

A mass meeting of delegates from twenty-six Chinese colleges was held at Tien Tsin to further the boycott, when it was decided to appoint a number of students from each school to travel and lecture upon the boycott. Large numbers of placards are being posted throughout Southern China, the language of which is in cases strongly anti-foreign.

NO JAPS FOR PANAMA.

Tokio Emigration Companies Object to Sending Laborers to Isthmus on Account of Conditions There.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Aug. 3.—The emigration companies object to sending laborers to Panama to work on the canal, on the ground that the conditions there are unsatisfactory.

They assert that there are no arrangements to care for the sick, no provision for returning home the families of deceased laborers and no allowance for passage money. They also assert that the drinking water and sanitary conditions are bad.

The government placed the question of sending the laborers and the conditions before the emigration companies who found as above stated.

NEW CABINET FOR SWEDEN.

HERR LUNDEBORG BECOMES NEW COALITION PREMIER.

Is One of the Pillars of the Conservative Majority in the Upper House and Largely Responsible for Conditions Framed for Dissolution of the Union.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKHOLM (Sweden) Aug. 2.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A coalition ministry will be formed today as follows:

Minister of State — CHRISTIAN LUNDEBORG.
Foreign Affairs—COUNT A. F. WACHTMEISTER.
Justice—JUDGE C. A. BERG.
War—COL. L. H. TIGSTEN.
Marine—S. A. A. LINDEMAN.
Interior—J. WIDEN.
Finance—HERR BIESERT.
Education and Ecclesiastical Affairs—HERR HAMMARSKJOLD.
Agriculture—A. D. PETERSEN.
Ministers without portfolio, Herr Peterson and Staaff.

Herr Lundeborg, the new Premier, is vice-Speaker of the First Chamber of the Riksdag, and chairman of the special committee appointed by the Riksdag to deal with the crisis arising from the dissolution of the union. Count Wachtmeister is a member of the First Chamber and director of the Land Office. Judge Berg also is a member of the First Chamber. Minister of Marine Lindeman is director of telegraphs. Herr Hammarskjold is president of the Goeta High Court. Herrs W. Widen, Biesert, Petersen and Staaff are deputies and Herr Petersen is a lawyer.

The new Premier is one of the pillars of the Conservatives in the upper house. He was largely responsible for the conditions framed by the Riksdag for the dissolution of the union, and King Oscar selected him for the Premiership, as he considered it desirable that the same influence which dominated the work of the committee should prevail during the negotiations for the carrying out of its programme.

In the new Cabinet, the Liberals are well represented, and the ministry can be depended upon to seek a peaceful solution of the difficulties between Sweden and Norway.

KAISER PREFERS MONARCHY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 2.—Since his arrival at the Danish court, Emperor William appears to have been convinced that there is no hope of a Prince of the House of Bernadotte becoming King of Norway. His Majesty now favors Prince Charles of Denmark, and he is quoted as saying: "If Prince Charles does not become King, Norway will be a republic. Of course, I prefer a monarchy, and therefore shall hereafter support the candidacy of Prince Charles."

Later, Prince and Princess Charles tonight paid a long visit to Emperor William, when His Majesty again promised to support Prince Charles for the throne of Norway. The Emperor also met the Russian Minister, M. Iswolsky, with whom he discussed Far Eastern affairs, on which M. Iswolsky is well informed, having been Minister at Tokio.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 2.—A German squadron, consisting of seven battleships, eight cruisers and eleven torpedo boats arrived here tonight.

BURY BENNINGTON BOY.

Services at Bakersfield Over Body of Young Marine Who Died Last Monday.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 2.—Impressive funeral services were held this afternoon over the body of Harry Hallett, who died in San Diego Monday morning from the effects of the injuries received in the explosion of the Bennington. The funeral was held at the home of Mrs. R A. Edmonds, the wife of the postmaster of this city, and a sister to the young marine.

WIDOWS RUN GREAT STORES.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the passing of the Fair store to Mrs. E. J. Lehman, two of the great department stores of Chicago are owned entirely by widows. The Fair store is worth over seven millions. The other is the Boston Store, a five-million-dollar property, owned by Mrs. Mollie Netcher. Both prosperities have grown to immense proportions from small concerns. E. J. Lehman began the Fair store with $1000 capital. Now it employs more than three thousand persons. Charles Netcher, founder of the Boston store, began as a package boy. Both establishments now require a hundred wagons and 250 horses in the delivery department.

DEATH IS GAINING.

Heavier Mortality in New Orleans.

Extent of Yellow Fever Evidence of Serious State of Affairs There.

Health Authorities Confess to No Alarm Over the Situation, However.

Arkansas Places Guards on All Trains and Also at All River Landings.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2.—The yellow fever record up to 6 p.m. follows: New cases, 32; total cases to date, 378; deaths today, 11; total deaths to date, 79; new sub-foci, 4; total sub-foci, 54.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2.—Today's report of the fever situation showed a gain in the number of deaths, but the health authorities confessed to no alarm over the situation. They said that more fatalities were looked for from the fact that in the past three or four days there has been a sufficient increase in the number of cases to warrant the expectation of heavier mortality. High temperatures succeeded by heavy precipitation and cooler weather produced climatic conditions also favorable to fatalities.

Practically all the deaths were of Italians and nearly all were either in the emergency hospital or in the district adjacent thereto. Some of the victims were unfortunates whose cases were also reported in the last two days, indicating they were in a practically moribund condition when their illness was reported.

There is no attempt to conceal the fact that the extent of the fever shows a serious state of affairs.

In spite of all that has been done to reassure them, many of the Italians continue to make efforts to conceal their cases. They are still panic stricken and turn in fear from the physicians and health officers. It was due largely to the energy with which the marine hospital forces set about the work of discovering hidden cases that Tuesday's record was made so large.

Since this campaign has been in progress cases have turned up in the most unexpected places. In one instance, when the officers had made a thorough inspection of premises and failed to find what they were looking for, they went through a skylight and found a sick man lying on the roof. In another case, they found a patient concealed under a cistern. The other day a wagon loaded with household goods and accompanied by Italians started to cross on the ferry. Suspicious officers insisted on an investigation and when the wagon was unloaded a very sick man was found. One of the reasons the fever has spread among the Italians is because they sleep without protection against mosquitoes.

Postmaster Woodward today received a letter from the railway mail service at Atlanta saying that Greenfield, Miss., has notified that office that hereafter it will receive no letter mailed from New Orleans that has not been disinfected and that under no circumstances will it receive newspapers whether disinfected or not.

Surgeon White of the Marine hospital service has returned from the Mississippi coast, from which point he talked over the long distance telephone with Gov. Vardaman. Dr. White said the governor had given courteous consent to the establishment of a detention camp on the Mississippi side of the State line, on the Louisville and Nashville road, and would arrange for the admission to Mississippi points of persons from New Orleans who entered the camp and are discharged with certificates of the Federal surgeons. There is no longer any obstacle to the movement of passengers through Mississippi.

Mayor Herrman today signed the mosquito ordinance and it was later reviewed in the official journal. It requires that cisterns shall be screened within forty-eight hours by property owners or their agents.

No apprehension exists of any serious results from the trouble that has arisen on the Mississippi-Louisiana border over the enforcement of the Mississippi quarantine.

The fever situation shows no material change during the day and the few new foci show that it is not spreading with the rapidity of former years. Of the deaths, four were in the emergency hospital; four in the original districts and three in the charities hospital.

The controversy between the States of Louisiana and Mississippi over the invasion by Gov. Vardaman's quarantine mosquito fleet and the armed guards stationed at Pearl River is now improved by the statement given out by Gov. Vardaman today in Jackson, after his return from the coast, where he went to investigate the situation.

TO IMPRESS POSTAL BOATS.

Gov. Blanchard has ordered Capt. Bostick of the Naval Brigade to impress the fleet of patrol boats of the Oyster Commission into service and arm them and patrol the waters now in possession of the Mississippi boats. One of these oyster boats has already been dispatched to the Rigolets, the neck of water connecting Lake Pontchartrain with Lake Borgne, and late tonight or tomorrow morning a launch filled with rapid-fire guns from the Naval Brigade armory and manned by officers and crew from the brigade will leave for the scene.

Both Capt. Bostick and Gen. Perillatt submitted reports as to the result of their investigations. Both dispatched officers to the scene today and they learned enough to confirm the first reports of the invasion and the action of the Mississippi patrol boats in closing Louisiana waters to Louisiana fishermen. The Rigolets drawbridge, on which the Louisville & Nashville Railroad crosses, it is contended here, is five miles from the Mississippi line and distinctly in Louisiana territory, and, it is added, does not even come under the territory now in dispute before the Supreme Court of the United States.

It was found today that a man named Blunt, claiming to be in charge of the Mississippi patrol in these waters, had stationed himself on the bridge, armed with two shotguns, and forced the bridge-keeper from opening the draw to allow boats to pass out from Lake Pontchartrain into Lake Borgne. Many other complaints also have been received. There are eighteen boats now at Ship Island which were captured by the patrol and towed by the revenue cutter Winona to Ship Island quarantine station. It is claimed that every one of these vessels was taken in Louisiana waters.

Another complication has developed in the same connection. The British ship Brayhead, of the Head line, after completing her cargo in New Orleans, stopped at the Mississippi side of Lake Borgne canal to get a deck load of lumber, but the Mississippi boats absolutely refused to allow a tug to go to the mouth of Pearl River to get the barge and rafts. The Brayhead was obliged to leave without the cargo and the agents and the owners will lay the matter before the British government.

RAMS SHIP TO SAVE SHIP.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Two collisions, one of which snapped a propeller blade, were reported by the steamship Minneapolis, which arrived today from London. The first mishap occurred in a perilous point made around the Minneapolis by another liner, a tramp ship and a fishing smack Saturday, July 22, in the English Channel. The Minneapolis' commander, Capt. Thomas F. Cates, says his ship was wedged so tightly in the trap that his only chance was to run down one of the other ships. He chose the fishing smack as the least dangerous and struck this boat a glancing blow which carried away parts of her rigging, but did no other serious damage. Two days later Capt. Cates believes the Minneapolis ran over the remains of a submerged wreck. Early Monday morning the ship shivered and one blade of her propeller snapped off. Passengers, awakened, ran on deck. The steamer came to a stop. After short delay, however, she proceeded.

WITTE SENT ONLY TO LEARN TERMS.

Can't Negotiate With Japan Unless Petersburg Gives Permission. The Czar's Chief Envoy Hopes for Peace but Not "Shameful" One.

[BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Sergius Witte, the Russian plenipotentiary, on his arrival here this afternoon, emphatically denied having said that Japan's peace terms were intolerable. He also denied positively that he had predicted that the conference would break up in a week.

WHAT HE DIDN'T SAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—A staff correspondent of the Herald on board the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse sends his paper the following: "M. Witte, the Russian envoy, said Tuesday night: 'I am afraid that the negotiations will be ended within a week, as the Japanese conditions are such as not to admit of consideration.'"

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, with M. Sergius Witte, the senior Russian peace envoy, arrived at quarantine this afternoon. M. Witte was in good health. The ship had a good passage, being smooth except Sunday and Monday, when it was a little rough. On shipboard M. Witte was generally reticent when the subject of his mission was mentioned.

When the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse arrived at her pier M. Witte handed to Prof. De Maartens his first statement to the press, which Prof. De Maartens read aloud:

"For the friendly greetings of the American newspapers upon my first visit to the hospitable shores of the United States I offer my heartfelt thanks. This kind attention touches me all the more profoundly because I realize the vastness of the power wielded by the press and admire the keen intelligence with which it is uniformly directed.

"I am glad to be able to add that I also appreciate the ethical worth of its aims, of which the power is so often and so successfully employed. One of the noblest of these aims is the establishment of peace and friendship among nations, and it is to the praiseworthy efforts of the people of the United States in this direction that my visit to the New World is attributable. For it is in compliance with the American people's desire for peace, of which President Roosevelt was the authorized exponent, that His Majesty, the Czar, has empowered me to come hither and ascertain the conditions which our gallant adversary deems necessary and adequate as a basis for peace negotiations.

"I need hardly point out that it is my ardent desire that the two chivalrous countries who first became acquainted on the field of battle may have found in each other's sterling qualities motives powerful enough to cultivate that acquaintanceship until it ripens into lasting friendship.

THE CONDESCENDING CZAR.

"Meanwhile, however, the terms offered must first be ascertained, weighed and judged admissible by Russia before she can proceed to formal negotiations. Hitherto, as you are aware, it was customary in cases like this to settle all such preliminaries before the meeting of the plenipotentiaries, whose task was to come to a final agreement upon the matters under discussion; now, the very fact that His Majesty, the Czar, consented to take a course involving departure from his ancient diplomatic usage and to appoint a mission to learn the nature of our brave enemy's terms, is an eloquent token of the friendly feeling which he and his subjects continue to cherish toward the people of the United States.

"I say 'to cherish' because at no time in our history have our traditional relations with this glorious republic been other than cordial. And now I should like to say, and to prove to your people who live less in the past than in the present and the future, that it is the fervent wish of the Emperor and the people of Russia further to strengthen the ties of friendship which have hitherto subsisted between the two nations.

"It is in virtue of this sincere desire that His Majesty, the Czar, waiving all other considerations, has unhesitatingly accepted the cordial invitation of your first citizen and genial leader. And if my mission should prove in all other respects barren and the endeavor to find a common basis for peace negotiations should fail, for the time being, the signal proof of friendship given by His Majesty, the Czar, and the Russian nation would still stand out as a memorable event, fraught, I trust, with far-reaching and beneficent results to the two great peoples of the West and the East."

REVERSES, NOT DEFEAT.

When his mission was mentioned, to an Associated Press correspondent who accompanied him from Cherbourg, M. Witte said:

"The Russians have had reverses, but this does not signify that they have lost the power which was known to the Muscovite before the war, nor does it mean that Russia has become a negligible quality nor that the Japanese have acquired by right of their recent victories such a supremacy as to make the Russian empire consider them a truly redoubtable enemy."

M. Witte recognizes the good qualities of the Japanese military and naval administrative organizations and does not believe any other European nation would have been able to resist Japan as Russia has. It could not be done.

"It must taken into consideration," said M. Witte, that the Japanese had been preparing for war for about ten years, while Russia was entirely unprepared, wishing for and trusting in peace. The Japanese fought in their own neighborhood, under all favorable conditions, while the Russians had to be sent nine thousand versts from their headquarters by a railroad entirely insufficient to their needs and to fight a colonial war. There is not in history another example of a similar disproportion between armies. Nevertheless, all the foreign officers of the European armies who followed the war are unanimous in affirming that the Russian troops, the soldiers and the officers, fought with a bravery phenomenal under the circumstances.

SUPPOSITIONS.

"On the sea, the Russians found themselves constantly inferior in conditions. The squadron of Rojestvensky was sent not because Russians had much confidence in its success, but because they could not renounce from a military and moral point of view any chance, no matter how uncertain, of obtaining even a partial victory.

"Suppose for a moment that the war, instead of having taken place in Korea or Manchuria, had been fought at the true Russian frontiers. Then the Japanese would not have been able to face the Russian forces for more than six months.

"However, even as things stand, the Japanese have not made such progress as is generally believed; in fact, they would have to advance four times as much as they have done in the last year and a half to reach Russia proper, in which case they might consider themselves in a position to impose conditions of peace. But they are very far from this and the more they advance north, the more the respective conditions of the Russians and the Japanese will be reversed."

According to the Russian plenipotentiary, those who do not know Russia well oppose to these reasons the spectre of the international conditions of the empire, imagining all kinds of cataclysms, but even about this they are mistaken, according to Witte.

M. Witte did not wish to discuss at this time the events in Russia, affirming, however, that they have not the character nor the gravity attributed to them, nor can they bring about the consequences which have been supposed, partly by those prejudiced against Russia and partly by those ignorant of Russian internal affairs. What is going on in the Muscovite empire, he said, cannot have any influence on her foreign policy and even less on the continuation or cessation of the war.

ONLY A COLONIAL WAR.

"The great majority of the Russian people," said M. Witte, "do not attach to the conflict in the Far East the importance which is given to it in Europe and America. It is considered as a very distant colonial war, but the whole Russian people would rise as a single man the day in which they should think that it is no more the question of a colonial war, which is not dangerous, but a conflict threatening the security of the country."

M. Witte indicated, notwithstanding these views, that he does not mean to say that he will make every possible effort toward the conclusion of peace, adding that he is favorable to peace, as a Russian and as a man, having always worked to prevent war, and understanding that at present nearly the entire world desires the end of the conflict. However, he feels that to reach this object it is necessary that the Japanese should be animated by the same feelings; that they should be convinced that peace for Russia is desirable, but not at all indispensable, and that Russia will never accept any conditions which will offend her amour propre.

M. Witte repeated that he will honestly do all that his conscience may suggest to bring about, if possible, an agreement which may be equally satisfactory to the interests of Russia and Japan. After having done this, no matter what the results may be, M. Witte will feel that he will have accomplished his duty.

HAPPY TO VISIT AMERICA.

Speaking of his arrival on American soil, M. Witte said: "I am happy to visit America, which country I am most anxious to know. My only regret is that I cannot speak English, as I should like thoroughly to appreciate the country whose progress and development are so interesting and instructive. I shall also be glad to have personal intercourse with President Roosevelt, who has reached such a prominent position as a statesman and to present to him the greetings of Emperor Nicholas.

"It has been stated that I am to test the ground for floating a Russian loan in America and discuss the relations between the two countries, especially regarding commercial affairs. My only mission is the negotiations for peace, but I am quite ready to express my personal opinion on questions affecting the relations between Russia and America, with a view to further strengthening the traditional friendly feeling between St. Petersburg and Washington."

Eight officials of the Russian peace commission arrived here today on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. Beside the senior plenipotentiary, Sergius Witte, there were J. Shipoff, director of the Treasury Department; Maj.-Gen. Yermoleff, military attaché at London; M. Naboukoff of the Foreign Office; Jean Korotovitz, formerly Secretary of the Russian Legation at Peking; Georges Plancon, formerly Russian Chargé at Peking; Gen. W. K. Samoiloff of the Russian Foreign Office and Prof. de Martens, professor of international law at St. Petersburg University.

A tug bearing twenty-two members of the committee of the Slavonic League went to Quarantine to meet the incoming steamer and three members of this committee boarded the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

HAVE BEEN HERE BEFORE.

Some of the members of the Russian peace delegation have visited America before. Prof. De Martens said it was a real pleasure to him to return to America.

"I was in the United States in October, 1901," he said, "on the occasion of having conferred upon me the degree of doctor of laws by Yale University, together with President Roosevelt, Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller, Marquis Ito, Mark Twain and the late Secretary of State, John Hay, that I had the privilege of making the personal acquaintance of President Roosevelt. Everywhere the most exquisite hospitality was extended to me, and the most distinguished American citizens arranged in my honor a large and fine dinner at the Metropolitan Club in New York. I was the guest of President Eliot of Harvard University."

Jean Korostovetz, who is one of M. Witte's secretaries, went through the United States twice in 1894, going from Japan to the Russian legation at Rio Janeiro, and in 1901, going to Russia from Port Arthur, where he was the chief of Admiral Alexieff's civil staff.

WELCOME IN HARBOR.

Lodygensky, Russian Consul-General, went down the harbor in a revenue cutter this morning officially to greet the distinguished envoy and was received by M. Witte on deck while the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was at Quarantine. Accompanying the Consul-General, were Baron Schlippenbach, Russian Consul-General at Chicago; Baron Schilling, Russian Vice-Consul at New York, and M. Wilonkine, Russian financial agent at Washington, who was the bearer of important dispatches from St. Petersburg to M. Witte. The latter promptly opened, read and quietly put the dispatches in his pocket.

Awaiting Witte at the dock was Baron Rosen, Russian Ambassador to Washington, with his secretary of embassy; M. Hansen. Baron Rosen came on board as soon as the ship reached the dock and cordially greeted his confrere and the members of his suite M. Witte came down the gangplank on the arm of Baron Rosen, followed by his suite, but soon found his passage impeded by a tremendous crowd, who cheered him and whose greetings M. Witte smilingly acknowledged by repeatedly lifting his hat. Several policemen soon came to his rescue and cleared a passage to the automobile awaiting the party outside the dock.

Midway down the pier, the procession was again stopped, this time, however, by a delegation from the Slavonic Society of New York, which greeted M. Witte with a speech. The Russian envoy made a brief but cordial response.

M. Witte enjoyed his trip up the harbor. He mingled freely with the hundreds of passengers who crowded the deck of the great steamship and, although at all times the center of attraction, he seemed to be quite unaware of it. It was a beautiful day and the Russian envoy got his first glimpse of the metropolis of the New World under most favorable conditions. Everything seemed to interest him. The towering sky line, as he passed the Battery, the numerous ships in the harbor and the activity which he saw on every side interested him greatly and in his quiet way he showed genuine enthusiasm to those of his suite, who stood near him on deck and pointed out the various points of interest.

SATO MAKES NO COMMENT.

At the headquarters of the Japanese peace commissioners tonight no comment was made upon the Associated Press interview with M. Witte. Almar Sato, who has met all interviewers since the Japanese delegation arrived in New York, said that Baron Komura would make no statement at this time and from a personal standpoint he (Sato) thought that to make any statement or comment at all would be entering the controversy prematurely.

"At no time has any one save His Majesty, the Emperor of Japan, and his envoys had any intimation as to what Japan's demands will be," said Mr. Sato.

ARRIVES FROM PEKING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Aug. 2.—Dimitri D. Pokotiloff, a Russian peace envoy, arrived by the steamer Empress of Japan today, en route to Washington, where he will assist M. Witte and Baron Rosen at the forthcoming peace negotiations. M. Pokotiloff declined to discuss the peace question in any phase, stating he did not know anything, having no instructions from his government as to his position. He had gone to Peking to succeed the late M. Lesser as Russian Minister and had been there a week when he received a telegram from St. Petersburg ordering him to proceed to Washington to attend the peace negotiations.

M. Pokotiloff does not regard the Chinese boycott as likely to prove a serious movement. It has not government sanction, he said.

M. Pokotiloff is an expert on Chinese, Mongolian and Manchurian affairs and has had much experience in connection with Russian work in the Far East.

TAGGART DIVORCE CASE.

Many Prominent Men Arrive at Wooster to Attend as Witnesses at the Trial.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WOOSTER (O.) Aug. 2.—Many prominent men in army circles have arrived here to attend as witnesses, the hearing of the Taggart divorce case, set for this afternoon before Judge Easton. The case is surrounded by circumstances of a sensational feature. Taggart, one of the best-known officers in the regular army, charged his wife with infidelity, drunkenness and abuse of their children. Mrs. Taggart alleges cruelty.

A great part of the day was occupied in hearing preliminary statements by attorneys, telling what they expected to prove. Attorney Wortz, representing Taggart, said he would show that Taggart's wife was not Miss Culver, but an adopted child. Since her marriage she had conducted herself in a scandalous manner.

Judge Smyser, for Mrs. Taggart, denied all charges, and said he would prove Taggart was brutal in the extreme, and on one occasion had torn every shred of clothing off her.

Few witnesses were heard, all residents of Coryville, in an attempt to show illicit relations between Mrs. Taggart and her cousin, but the testimony fell short of expectations in that line.

PICTURESQUENESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WOOSTER, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Army officers in uniforms and handsomely-gowned women gave picturesqueness to the scene in Judge Easton's courtroom today, when Mrs. Taggart entered. Mrs. Taggart, who was Violet Culver of Chicago, one of the reigning belles, was accompanied by her sons, Charles, aged 11, and Elmore, aged 7, for the custody of whom she is fighting. Men whose names are known to social leaders in half a dozen cities are involved in the scandal and a relative of the President may have to take the stand.

LAND APPLICANTS IN THIN LINE.

Work of Registration for Uintah Allotments Not Going on With Anticipated Rush.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) Aug. 2.—Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, the work of registration for Uintah lands at Grand Junction, Colo., and at Price, Vernal and Provo, Utah, has proceeded with ease and dispatch. It has not been found necessary to do anything in the way of maintaining a line, as there is a marked falling off compared with yesterday's crowds. Today's total registration is 1112.

RAILROADS DISAPPOINTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER, Aug. 2.—Travel to Grand Junction and other points where registration of applicants for homesteads in the Uintah reservation is in progress does not meet the expectations of the railroads and it is already evident that the clerical force employed will have no difficulty in registering all applicants. The total registrations on the first day was 5507.

MUELLER'S CONFESSION.

"That night my little Martha said, 'Kiss me, papa,' after we went to bed. I kissed her, and then my wife put her arms around my neck at the same time and kissed us both. I went to sleep and remember nothing more. Two days later I woke up in the hospital, and saw several policemen. I heard them talking about how I had killed my wife and babies, but I wouldn't believe it, and I didn't believe it until my brother came in and told me." With his voice trembling with emotion and nervous twitches playing down his pallid cheeks, John Mueller, charged with the murder of his wife and two babies, sat in the witness chair in Judge Keren's court, today, and gave the above remarkable testimony.

The case is somewhat strange in the annals of medico-legal jurisprudence. The plea of the defendant is somnambulistic traumatic insanity, caused by a blow on the head.

BRYAN'S SON SUFFERS.

William Jennings Bryan, Jr., the 17-year-old son of the Democratic leader, is at the Presbyterian Hospital here suffering from an abscess in the right knee, and is threatened with sceptic poisoning. Young Bryan is a student at Culver (Ind.) military academy, and marched with the cadets to Winona Lake ten days ago when smallpox broke out at Culver. He injured his right foot, and later the knee became affected. An operation was performed, and when no improvement was noted, he was hurried to the Chicago hospital.

According to advices received today, this entry is on the blotter of the Bow street police court in London. Campbell recently took a high-power "Red Devil" across the "pond" for the purpose, it was alleged, of "stirring up the Britishers." The multi-millionaire paid his fine with a £100 note, and departed with a remark that astounded the presiding justice: "Send the change to my St. Louis office," he said. "I haven't time to wait for it."

Mrs. Davison alleges the children were kidnapped from her home at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, shortly after she had filed suit for divorce.

NURSES SHOW HOW 'TIS DONE.

Demonstration Given at San Francisco Convention.

Not Least of Which is Amputation of Man's Leg.

Williamson's Case to Jury. Yaquis Want Peace.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California State Nurses' Association completed its two days' session tonight at the St. Francis Hotel, where the members enjoyed a banquet.

The second day of the conference was a busy one. From 9 o'clock in the morning until nearly 6 o'clock, there was a continuous session at headquarters. In the morning an operation was witnessed on a tuberculosis patient, whose leg was amputated at the thigh. Dr. Wallace I. Terry performed the operation and Miss M. Florence Holsclaw demonstrated, with four assistants, modern methods of surgical-nurse technique. Her work was greatly admired by her sister nurses for its quickness, intuitive grasp of immediate necessities and its extreme calmness. Miss Holsclaw is a graduate of Stanford and of the Waldeck Training School for Nurses and is also about to graduate from Cooper Medical College as an M.D.

In the afternoon Dr. W. Francis B. Wakefield, chairman of the jury, announced awards in the competition of seven hospitals in and around San Francisco in "Fever Charts" and "Bedside Reports." The award of first excellence, which was made to the Children's Hospital nurses, was explained by the doctor on the basis that it contained everything that the attending physician wanted to know. The contest between the Children's Hospital and the Waldeck, winner of the second award, was very close.

After the awards, Miss Hostetter gave a demonstration of the Naubeim bath. Nurses from the Children's Hospital made an application of "Bucks extension" and manipulation of plaster of Paris, Fabiola Hospital nurses showed how to administer the steam bath, a preparation of catgut and cocaine was done by nurses from the French Hospital and illustrations were given by nurses from the Clara Barton Hospital of hyperdermic injection and bedmaking.

At the banquet in the evening Dr. Susan Griswell acted as toastmistress and Miss Genevieve Cook responded eloquently to the toast "California."

Southern California has been given prominent place in the papers and discussions at the convention and all the nurses here are looking forward to the next convention at Los Angeles, when a large delegation from the southern counties may be expected.

YAQUIS WANT PEACE.

NEGOTIATIONS ON WITH MEXICO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) Aug. 2.—News comes from Sonora, in a letter to the editor of the Nogales Oasis, that negotiations for peace are in progress between Yaqui Indians and the Mexican government.

Couriers are traveling throughout the tribe wherever there are Yaqui Indians urging them to commit no further depredations, pending a peace conference. A conference will be held at Ures in a few days, it is said, between the principal leaders and Mexican representatives.

The initiative came from the Yaquis. The last treaty with the Yaquis was ROAD MAKERS GRAFTING.

FRAUD CHARGED IN HUMBOLDT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EUREKA, Aug. 2.—The report of the Humboldt county grand jury, filed today in Judge Wilson's court, shows that road work costing the county $10,000 should have been done for $2000. Fraud and avoidable error, the latter due to loose methods of transacting business, are charged, and, after a searching investigation, it is said the exact amount of money which has illegally left the treasury cannot be determined. There are overcharges against every road district in the county, and outsiders are said to have profited by them.

The grand jury recommends that the supervisors adopt better business methods and instructs the District Attorney, wherever possible, to make an attempt to recover the money illegally expended.

CASE READY FOR JURY.

WILLIAMSON ARGUMENTS END.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 2.—Arguments in the case of Congressman Williamson, United States Commissioner Biggs and Dr. Van Gessner, indicted for subornation of perjury in connection with land transactions in eastern Oregon, were concluded this morning.

Seldom, if ever, in Oregon, has a case been so bitterly fought as the present one. Scathing as was the invective of Judge Bennett in his closing argument for the defense yesterday there were thrusts no less keen when United States Dist.-Atty. Heney took up the closing argument for the government today.

Under the law in a conspiracy case, the jury can acquit one of the defendants.

FIRE HALF-WITTED ONE'S WORK.

SUPPOSITION AS TO BLAZE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VISALIA, Aug. 2.—Three-quarters of a block of smoking embers in the eastern part of the city and one-quarter of a block of smoking embers in the central section are reminders of last night's disastrous conflagrations.

The members of Co. E of the National Guard were on duty all night, having been sworn in as deputies by the City Marshal. Every unknown man found in the streets had to give an account of himself or go to jail. It is believed that the first fire was accidental and the second fire the work of some half-witted person. Two men are in jail on suspicion.

Hundreds of dollars worth of property was damaged by being thrown into the streets. It is estimated that the total loss will aggregate $21,000.

STUDENTS HAD QUESTIONS.

STATE DENTAL INVESTIGATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—The investigation of the charges against the State Dental Examiners was continued this morning.

Six of the students who took the examination in anatomy were questioned this morning. The net result is that the students had a list of questions which they thought would be asked in made at Ortez, in 1897, and was not broken until 1905.

that examination, and the event showed that from six to nine of them were asked in the paper which Dr. Mayhew put on the board that morning. As yet, no direct evidence has been given regarding the source of the information the students are alleged to have received.

Masons Lay Away Popular Official.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 2.—The funeral of Fire Chief George E. Hines, who died suddenly at Lodi Monday morning, was attended today by nearly all the city and county officials and by numerous private citizens. Friendship Lodge of Masons, of which he was a member, had charge.

Boy Who Watched Ships is Gone.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—James T. Wiseman, the thirteen-year-old son of Joseph Wiseman, a prominent broker of Siskiyou county, who was visiting this city with his father, has been missing since July 31. When last seen he was on the Clay-street wharf, watching the unloading of a ship.

Pass Possible Clew to the Servia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—The Alaska Packers' Association's ship Balclutha, which arrived today, reports passing a ship's mast entangled with rigging, which may have belonged to the bark Servia. No accident is known to have occurred to the Servia, but she was overdue at Karluk July 16. The Balclutha went ashore on Goose Island several months ago, but was floated and wintered at Alatag and has come here for repairs.

Miner Strikes it Rich.

RENO (Nev.) Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Baker, an old miner of Virginia City, received returns today from fifteen tons of ore taken from an abandoned claim in the heart of the Comstock. The ore yielded $17,000 net. Baker took out the ore in a few days. He took an old claim on the Brunswick lode, and in a few days struck a rich ledge.

TRIAL OF COBBAN.

Western Montana Timber Fraud Cases Again Taken up in Court at Helena, Mont.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The trial of R. M. Cobban, charged with subornation of perjury in what are known as the Western Montana timber fraud cases, was resumed in the United States court before Judge Hunt and a jury yesterday. Practically the entire time of the court was taken up with the examination, both direct and cross, of Albert Jemison, one of the government's most important witnesses.

Jemison was indicted, along with Cobban, as one of the alleged arch-conspirators in the so-called land frauds. His evidence was at times quite damaging to the defense. He told of taking twenty or more persons upon the lands under his agreement with Cobban to give him from $12.50 to $25 per locator; that they made an inspection of the lands, returned to Cobban's office, where the papers were made out, and that the locators themselves were to receive $100 each and expenses.

Jemison was subjected to a most rigid cross-examination, and at times he became quite confused, and once appealed to Judge Hunt for protection, plaintively exclaiming: "They'll get me all tangled up," but he was directed by the court to answer the questions.

EVEN BOSS MURPHY HAS HIS AMBITIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From New York to Albany; from Albany to Washington. Such is Boss Murphy's ambition for Mayor McClellan, according to many prominent Democrats. It is predicted that a State convention one year hence, McClellan, should he be reelected mayor, will have behind him the solid power New York delegation. Should he win both mayoralty and Governorship, Murphy would be in a commanding position for the national battle in 1908.

Murphy, with wealth and power at hand, like others before him, would satisfy social ambitions, as well, and would be the entree into the genuine inner circles of society will be denied any man redolent of saloons and redlights. Murphy would not be denied the money-rich which so largely composes the "400," if, by a political miracle, he could become a President-maker and presidential dictator.

"McCarren is necessary to success. The lines between civic righteousness on the one hand and municipal predatory interests and protected vice on the other will be drawn as never before. McCarren, as reward for his fealty, will dictator of Brooklyn, and also name his masters, the gigantic corporation, next Tammany nominee for controller of Greater New York.

PRESS IS FOR JEROME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All papers comment at length on District-Attorney Jerome's campaign against bossism. Every paper in the city, with the exception of the Times and Daily News, which is the local East Side organ, will fight the Tammany ticket. The Times (Independent Democrat) says: "If there has any chance at all, it is in an awakening and vote-compelling wonder against vice and crime and murder and all forms of crookedness and dishonesty. He must arouse people to fever enthusiasm by pitching on something or somebody with such zeal and fervor, with such eloquence and moral earnestness that the community, putting aside all thought of party, will elect him in spite of the machine.'"

The World (Democratic) says: "It is truly 'a test case' that Jerome is making. Less a test case of his personal merits than of the independence of the people of New York county. It is precisely because the politicians have learned to fear him, because he has taught them that he cannot be bossed; that he is a fighting leader with a fight."

The Tribune (Republican:) "We have no doubt, however, that Jerome's announcement, following his bitter attack on Tammany leadership and ruthless disparagement of the Mayor, has seriously disconcerted Murphy and his advisers. It would make them sue to indorse him, but they may conclude that they are reduced to the painful necessity of swallowing the dose."

The Mail (Republican:) "The District Attorney's attitude is magnificent, but it is not war, it is single combat. We know not which would be more deplored—the success of Jerome in a tour de force that would make his name ring from the Atlantic to the Pacific, while the fusion cause, deprived of the loyal coöperation and subordination which it has right to demand of all its friends, collapses, and Tammany easily triumphs again; or the overwhelming defeat of Jerome, brought about by his impotence of organized support, with the reflection that he had wasted his great strength with the people and squandered his usefulness in the espousal of a picturesque off-side theory."

The Globe (Republican:) "It would be a fatal mistake on the part of the Republican organization to refuse to help renominate Jerome, for to do so would be to admit his standard of official conduct was too high to meet their approval. His experience has fitted him for more valuable service in the future than he has been capable of in the past, and the city should be given the benefit of that experience."

The Press (Republican:) "It is of prime importance, both to public interest and to the Republican party, that the office of District Attorney should be kept, if such a thing is possible, from going in the hands of Murphy, the way Mayor McClellan's office in the same hands has gone in the last two years—the Lord knows how much worse it could become in another four years."

The Eagle (Democratic:) "So the Tammany leader may not only forget and forgive, but turn the other cheek. Stranger things have happened than that Jerome, despite his allusions to 'selfishness,' 'irresponsibility' and 'corruption,' should find himself the Democratic candidate. Grout was played as the highest trump in the Tammany pack and Jerome may be used to 'follow suit.'"

WATTERSON ON "ARISTOCRACY."

"REAL BRAND" IS ABROAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Henry Watterson returned from his European trip today. He spent nearly nine months abroad, during which he toured Spain, France and Germany and England. Commenting on European conditions, Watterson said: "I observed European aristocracy pretty closely while I was over there, and I have arrived at the conclusion that foreign aristocracy is of much better grade than the American article. There, aristocracy means lineage and brains. Here—well, it ranks chiefly from bad whisky to Standard Oil."

Boycott "Dished up" by Chinese Government.

Ex-Statistician Hyde Returning to America.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Department has evidence that China is playing fast and loose with this country in the matter of the boycott of American interests in the empire. Despite the protestations of the Foreign Office of Peking that the imperial government is in no way responsible for the systematic antagonism of American trade that is playing such havoc with our commercial interests, Washington authorities learn that the boycott, if not actually instigated by the Chinese government, is being encouraged by it.

Several weeks ago, Minister Rockhill cabled to the State Department that he had received assurances from the American office at Peking that the Chinese government was not connected in any manner with the boycott. The Chinese officials declared they viewed the spread of sentiment against American interests with deep regret, and that they were exerting their utmost to stop it and restore the former friendly relations between American importers and the Chinese buying public. The Foreign Office told Rockhill that instructions had been sent to viceroys in the various provinces and to all taotais throughout the empire to frown upon the boycott.

On the very day that Minister Rockhill sent this reassuring news, another cablegram was dispatched from the Peking Foreign Office to the Chinese Consul at San Francisco. It related to the boycott also, but was of vastly different tenor from the communication which Minister Rockhill forwarded. It was to the effect that the Chinese Consul at San Francisco should disregard the announcement which would be made regarding the position of the Chinese government in the matter. The Consul was given to understand in language unmistakable that the boycott was still on, and that the opinions expressed to Minister Rockhill were "a blind," and given for the purpose of policy only.

These facts are now in the possession of this government. It is difficult to say what action will be taken, in view of this revelation. The boycott is spreading to all countries where the Chinese have any influence whatever. Secretary Root has the matter in hand, and China is likely to "hear something drop" shortly.

SEEKING HYDE.

EX-STATISTICIAN TO RETURN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—In answer to a cablegram to John Hyde, former chief statistician of the Department of Agriculture, urging him to return to this country, Secretary Wilson today received the following dispatch from Hyde:

"SOUTHPORT (Eng.) Aug. 2.—Returning as soon as possible. Letter."

Hyde left Washington about the time the special grand jury was convened to investigate the leakage in the Bureau of Statistics, by which it is alleged that Edwin E. Holmes, the former associate statistician, furnished advance information of the department's figures on the cotton crop to New York brokers. When Hyde resigned as chief of the bureau he agreed to hold himself ready to aid the Department of Justice in the investigation it is making. He took passage for Europe a few days later, and his departure was not learned until he was beyond the jurisdiction of the Federal authorities, who wanted him as a witness before the grand jury.

REFORESTATION INQUIRY.

WESTERN RESERVES EXAMINED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The forest service is making examinations of the number of western reserves to discover what proportion of their area needs reforestation and where planting will best succeed. After studies in detail have been completed and the feasibility of planting has been assured, plans will be made for reforestation of large tracts now unproductive. Preliminary examinations for planting are now being made in San Gabriel, Modoc and Warner Mountain forest reserves of California; in the Gila River reserve of New Mexico; the Salt Lake reserve of Utah, and in the Cassia reserve of Idaho.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Wilson Defends Employees.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today issued a statement denying that employés of the forestry service have written articles for magazines prior to the publication of government work in public reports.

Keep Commission's Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The Keep commission, appointed by the President to investigate business methods in the executive departments of the government and to suggest any desirable changes, has prepared 107 questions which it has forwarded to the heads of departments with requests for prompt replies. These questions relate principally to the general department organization, personnel, correspondence and files, the purchase of supplies and accounts and miscellaneous matters.

GRAFTERS RUSHED GOOD THING.

HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 2.—Testifying for the government in the trial of H. M. Cobban, in the United States court today, on the charge of subornation of perjury in connection with Western Montana timber land entries, C. L. Griswold, indicted with Cobban, but now a government witness, cited five cases where entrymen and entrywomen came to Helena, made final proof in the United States Land Office, then deeded timber land to Cobban for sums ranging from $100 to $250, Griswold handling the money.

NE HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR.

SPEED WILL BE REACHED BY THE RAILROADS.

Public Demand for Fast Trains Must be Met, Say Railroad Men. Trains are the Most Dangerous—Trespassers a Cause of Trouble in the Country.

[New York Sun:] The public does need fast trains, else the railroads would not supply them. The public likes fast trains and makes them profitable, or the railroads would not run them. The railroad business is not conducted by philanthropists, as everybody but the pass fiends know. One of the officials of the New York Central railroad said to an interviewer the other day:

"The business of the railroads is to do transportation, the same as the grocer sells drugs. If a railroad runs fast trains, there is a demand for fast trains. If a speedier train than any one is running is put in operation it is because there is commercial necessity for it.

"As to speed limit, we have not reached it and won't for years to come. There is always something new in the railroad business. It may be a better kind of car or maybe a way to make a better roadbed. With modern equipment and a first-class roadbed with a level stretch of track no one can tell the limit of speed that can be obtained on a first-class road. The modern locomotives are not built to go the limit.

"There is a limit to their speed, but no one is interested in the limit, particularly as long as they travel as fast as the public demands. When the time comes that the electric engines take the place of steam engines speed will be greatly increased."

"How fast can trains run with safety?" this official was asked.

"That is a rather difficult question to answer. President Newman of the New York Central recently put himself on record as saying that he thought express trains ran too fast. I rather think he was in error when he said that, for I thought all railroad men believed as he did.

"It is a matter of fact, most railroad men would rather ride on a fast train than a slow one, because they know that ones are the safest. If there is a switch like that on the Lake Shore when the Twentieth Century was used, the slow train is going to be handled as well as the fast one.

FAST TRAINS SAFEST.

"If I knew I was going to be in a railroad wreck, I would take the fast train in preference to the slow one. To begin with, the fast train is made up of the best equipment and manned by the best men the company has employed. The flier never has as many cars as a slow train and there is less crash when the crash comes.

"Every employé of a road that has a fast train is always on the lookout for the fast train. It has a clear track and all ordinary precautions are taken for safety.

"The fast trains have been wrecked, but when one does meet with that misfortune it makes a great impression on the minds of the public. The public has a sort of fool notion that all wrecks are due to high speed. That is a false impression, as any one can learn by taking the trouble to investigate.

"If you are walking briskly and you run into a man who is walking slowly you will bump that man out of your way. If you are running and hit another person coming toward you slowly you will hit him with more force still. The same principle holds good with a fast train. If it runs into a solid train it is going to be wrecked, but if there is an obstruction on the track the chances are that it won't. It will push the obstruction aside just as the running man shunts his slow-moving body out of his way.

"A train that is running slowly when an obstruction is apt to be derailed, at least. The Twentieth Century once hit a freight car and cut it in two and none of the passengers knew of the accident.

"The greatest trouble the railroads in this country have to contend with are the trespassers, the persons who are on railroad tracks. A good percentage of persons killed by the trains in this country are trespassers. In England, France and Germany are free from this trouble. In those countries it is a misdemeanor to go on a railroad track. Persons who do it and have no right to trespass are punished. In this freeborn land of ours there would be an awful howl if the railroads got together and tried to free themselves of trespassers.

"A man walking along a railroad track might become suddenly insane. He may see a switch and tamper with it and be sane. The result is a wreck.

TROUBLESOME TRESPASSERS.

"No one knows what the railroads suffer from trespassers. The Interstate Commerce Commission reports that nearly 6000 trespassers were killed by railroads in this country alone last year.

"A railroad man voiced the sentiment of a majority of railroad men. As to the limit of speed few will concede him.

"This country still holds the palm for fast speed trains, although it may be taken away from it if the syndicate which was recently formed in Brussels has good its boast. This syndicate has formed to construct a straight line road from Brussels to Berlin, the motive power to be electricity. It has been planned to make the run in seven hours and to do it will require a speed in excess of ninety miles an hour. To do this the railroad will have to be built as nearly in a straight line as possible and high power electric motors will be used.

"American railroads have done a good deal of experimenting with electric motors and for short distances they have attained great speed. What the railroad men of this country want is more power engines that can make fast time on long hauls, that is on trips of 500 or more miles.

"Talking about speed limit and fast trains," said General Manager A. H. Smith of the New York Central, "look at the Empire State Express. It's been running since October 26, 1891, and has never had a fatality."

"The Empire State and the Twentieth Century Limited of the New York Central (the latter the eighteen hour train) are the two fastest trains in the world. The next fastest train is the Pennsylvania's eighteen hour train to Chicago. On certain stretches of road any one of these trains could be speeded at the rate of seventy miles an hour. Railroad men say they make this speed when they are a few minutes behind time.

LIVELY TRAINS THESE.

"The Empire State Express runs the 436 miles from New York to Buffalo in seven hours and fifteen minutes. The average speed, including stops, is 53.32 miles an hour. The total weight of that train is 495 tons.

"The Central's eighteen hour train runs from New York to Chicago, a distance of 965 miles, in eighteen hours at an average speed of 53.61 miles an hour.

"The Pennsylvania's eighteen hour train has to travel 905 miles in eighteen hours at an average speed of 50.28 miles an hour.

"The fastest foreign trains are:

"The Sud Express, which travels between Paris and Bordeaux, a distance of 488.01 miles in nine hours and fifty-four minutes. The average speed of this train is 49.30 an hour. This train went at the rate of fifty-four miles an hour until it ran down an embankment. Then its running time was extended.

"The East Coast Express of the Great Northern and Northwestern railways runs from London to Edinburgh, a distance of 392½ miles, in 7 hours and 45 minutes, at an average speed of 50.77 miles an hour. Another fast English train runs between London and Glasgow, a distance of 401½ miles, in 9 hours, at an average speed of 50.18 miles an hour.

"These are the six fastest long-distance trains in the world. What strikes the layman in comparing the foreign and the American trains is the great difference in weight of cars and engines. Our rolling stock is a great deal heavier and for that reason far superior, railroad men say.

"People often ride on fast trains and don't realize it. Many a person rides on the Albany Flier between Albany and New York without knowing that he is really going faster than if he were riding on the Empire State Express. The last named train runs with four cars, and its running time between Albany and New York is 2 hours and 39 minutes. It does not stop between these cities.

"The Albany Flier is a six-car train and the running time between Albany and New York is 3 hours and 17 minutes. It makes eight stops on the way. Each stop, slowing down, discharging passengers and getting started again, will take at least three minutes.

"Take twenty-four minutes out of the running time and folks who ride on the Albany Flier are traveling pretty fast. Still they don't realize it and the New York Central never boasts about this train.

"Which all goes to show that people who travel on railroads have no idea how fast they are going. The men who run the railroads do, though, and they are constantly on the alert. If one road puts on a fast train another fast train will be put on in competition. The mile-a-minute period is here. People of the next generation are likely to travel at the rate of 100 miles an hour. Such speed has often been prophesied and the electric engine may make the prophecy a fact.

RARE RUINS FOUND IN JAVA.

TEMPLES DATING BACK TO THE EIGHTH CENTURY.

Splendid Architectural Remains of a People far Advanced in the Arts of Architecture and Sculpture. Wonderful Series of Pictures of the Birth and Life of Buddha.

[London Globe.] If most people were asked to name those countries of the world in which are still to be found splendid architectural remains of bygone civilization, the name of Egypt, India, Syria and Mexico would at once be forthcoming; but few would place the Island of Java on the list; yet not one of these could show ruins more numerous or more splendid.

This may seem an exaggeration, but the same opinion has been universally expresseed by the most eminent writers on the subject. As to the date and rise and fall of a civilization which has left behind it such splendid memorials authorities are much at variance, but for the most part they are placed between the beginning and the eight or ninth century of our era. Certain it is, however, that at one time the island must have been ruled by a Hindu or Buddhist people far advanced in the arts of architecture and sculpture.

Among the finest and best preserved of these ruins is the great temple known as the Tyandi Barabudur, situated near the center of Java in the Sultanate of Djokjakarta. Originally designed probably as a dagaba, or resting place, for a portion of the ashes of Buddha, this building rises in the form of a terraced pyramid, the part at present above ground being about three hundred and fifty feet square by one hundred and twenty feet high. The terraces at present visible are seven in number, the whole being surmounted by a dome thirty feet in height.

BEAUTIFUL BAS-RELIEFS.

Each of the terraces is covered on the inner wall formed by the terrace above, and in the lower terraces also on outer walls running round them, by a series of bas-reliefs, which for extent, variety and artistic merit have probably not their equals in the world. Running in a double tier round the lower galleries and in a single tier round the upper ones, they are estimated to have a length of over three miles, and represent by a continuous series of pictures not only the birth and life of the Lord Buddha in his final incarnation, but also a large number of the "Jatakas," or previous lives, of the Master in the gradually ascending forms of animals and of men in various positions in life, and record his good deeds in each of those lives.

Thus we have the story of the Bodhisatva when on earth in the form of a hare. Indra, the Lord of Heaven, in the form of a traveler, weary and hungry, comes down to test the virtues of the various beasts. He receives fish from an otter, a dish of curds from a jackal, and fruit from a monkey; but the poor hare, having nothing else to offer, presents his own body to the hungry traveler and throws himself onto a fire to be roasted. Interrupted now in many places by the work of a thousand years of earthquakes, tropical storms and fanatical Mohammedan destroyers, this wonderful picture story runs up through gallery after gallery to where, in the central dome, entirely closed in and hidden, stood the final image of the Master, free from any ornament, crown, or aureole, the Buddha raised above all earthly desires or passions.

In the whole of the series at present above ground there were originally no fewer than 2141 complete bas-relief pictures, of which 988 are still in a fair state of preservation. There were, in addition, in niches round the terrace walls, 441 statues of Buddha larger than life, besides smaller ones past counting. The whole of this work is done not in soft stone, easy to manipulate, but in the hardest and most intractable kinds of lava and trachyte. Alfred Russell Wallace in his classical work on the Malay Archipelago remarks: "The amount of human labor and skill expended on the Great Pyramid of Egypt sinks into insignificance when compared with that required to complete this sculptured hill temple in the interior of Java."

BUILDERS POOR ENGINEERS.

There is, however, one peculiar point in the construction which tends to show that the builders were not as good engineers as they were sculptors and architects. Round the entire base there runs what looks like a broad pavement of cubes of stone laid but not cemented together. This broad pavement has been removed in sections, each section being replaced in turn, and underneath was found another terrace larger than any of those now visible, and having its walls partly, but not entirely, covered with 160 more bas-relief pictures in fine preservation. These were photographed and covered in again. The total mass of square blocks of stone covering this hidden terrace amounts to 7000 cubic yards.

The conclusion is inevitable that this hidden terrace was meant for the original lower terrace, but that with the building partly completed and the first set of sculptures still unfinished the builders found that their foundations were too weak for the huge structure, and were obliged to sacrifice one terrace to strengthen them. Had not this been necessary, the building would have stood up even more colossal than it is. The temple of Barabudur is only one among many in Java. At the village of Prambanam also near Djokjakarta are the ruins known as "Chandi Sewa," or the "Thousand Temples," consisting of an outer parallelogram of 84 small temples, a second of 76, a third of 64, a fourth of 44, and a fifth, or inner one, of 28; in all 296 small temples in five concentric parallelograms. In the center is a large and beautifully ornamented cruciform inner temple. Most of the smaller temples are in ruins, but some are still fairly perfect.

At Loro Jongran, close by, are fourteen small and six large temples to Hindu deities: Siva, Durga and Ganesh being still represented by finely carved statues. At Gunong Praw, an extensive plateau reached in former times by four flights of stone stairs, each of over a thousand steps, on the north, south, east and west, are remains of nearly four hundred temples, and, to quote Wallace again, "the whole country between here and Prambanam, a distance of sixty miles, abounds with ruins, so that fine sculptured images may be seen lying in ditches or built into the walls of enclosures."

The above buildings are all of a religious character, but others may have been used for lay purposes, such as the so-called "Water Castle" in the city of Djokjakarta itself, where may be seen the remains of high walled enclosures with broad tanks, now overgrown with weeds, but still showing their stone terraces and the stone steps leading to the water, having probably originally formed the pleasaunce of some Hindu potentate, or possibly, from their very high walls, of his harem. In other parts are many ruins of forts, palaces, baths and aqueducts, and at Modjo-Agong, over a large stretch of country, every road and pathway shows a foundation of finely laid brickwork, the paved streets of some old city, of which only traces now remain.

One thing is noticeable in all this architecture—like the ancient Greeks, the builders knew nothing of the extreme utility of the arch in masonry, consequently few roofs remain, but in some places, as at Mendoet, near Barabudur, complete roofs remain, made by horizontal courses of masonry, each overlapping the one below it till they meet at the apex. Of course, the roof for this has to be very high for the breadth spanned, but for small spans the system serves its purpose fairly well. From the above descriptions it will be seen that if some of the energy spent on Pompeii and Egypt could be spent on excavations in Java, discoveries of the greatest importance might be made.

PLAINFIELD (N. J.) Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bill Smith, dubbed "Mayor" since the lucky auto accident near Paris deprived Charley Fair of life and handed Bill a hundred thousand or so, was put under bonds today to keep the peace. ANTIQUE RUGS

Finest Collection Selected By Avedis M. Enfiajian for California Homes.

Several weeks ago Mr. Avedis M. Enfiajian, with the Broadway Drapery Furniture Co., 447 South Broadway, went to New York City to select the finest Oriental rugs in the market.

In this he has many advantages over the ordinary purshaser, because he has relatives representing large importing firms, and, in fact, he buys many rare pieces direct from the Orient. Suffice it to say that this collection surpassed all his former efforts, and the rug hunters of Los Angeles will be surprised.

Mr. Enfiajian will return about August 8th, at which time the lovers of rugs may see the beautiful in the Oriental weave.

NUNNALEY'S BAD BREAK.

Former Deputy Assessor in Trouble Again.

Said to Have Forged Sister's Name to Note.

She Relents at Last Moment to Save Him.

Oscar H. Nunnaley, formerly deputy City Assessor, who vainly tried a year or two ago to become a power in politics, spent eight hours yesterday in the County Jail, charged with felony. On complaint of Mrs. Eleanor M. Odea, he was arrested for forgery, and only the intervention of his sister, who more than once before has saved him, prevented his remaining in a cell until the case was called in court.

What the relations between Nunnaley and Mrs. Odea have been is not known, but last November she secured a note signed by him and bearing what purported to be the signature of Mrs. Etta M. Timmons, his sister, who lives out Downey way. The note was for $500 and was for three months. Mrs. Odea has another note from Nunnaley for $200, but it has not yet been necessary to invoke the aid of the law in its collection.

When the note became due, and an effort was made to secure its payment, Nunnaley begged for time, which was given him. Finally after long waiting the matter was presented to Nunnaley's sister. Mrs. Timmons immediately repudiated what purported to be her signature, and stated she had not signed it. She is said to have intimated that she had helped her brother out of trouble before, and was getting tired of his misdeeds, and therefore declined to be at all responsible for the note.

That left the holders of the note with only one course to pursue, and they followed it. Tuesday Mrs. Odea appeared at the office of the District Attorney and explained the case. Assistant District Attorney Fleming prepared a complaint but insisted that she sign a statement to the effect that it was not her purpose to use the criminal courts as a collection agency, but at first she declined to do so. She was told that without a statement to that effect the complaint would no be issued.

Yesterday she returned to the Courthouse and signed the statement, and the complaint and the warrant charging Nunnaley with forgery was issued. The warrant was served about noon, and Nunnaley was taken to the County Jail. He could not give bond, and the prospect seemed dark for him, but again his sister came to his rescue.

She had been informed of the threatened arrest before it was made, and, it is said, she decided to save her brother from the penitentiary if possible. Her husband appeared at Assistant District Attorney Fleming's office and represented to him that his wife had assumed responsibility for the note and had made preparations to pay it. He stated further that Mrs. Timmons had authorized Nunnaley to sign her name to the note, although she had not witnessed the signature. Mr. Fleming was not satisfied, however, for he knew something of Nunnaley's record. He declined to issue an order for Nunnaley's release until he had a written statement from Mrs. Timmons to the effect that she had given her brother authority to affix her name to the note. It took some time to secure this, and, meanwhile, Nunnaley remained in jail. When the statement was taken to Mr. Fleming's residence last evening, he issued an order of release, and today the complaint will be dismissed.

It is understood that Nunnaley's relatives intend to take him to Arizona, where, among persons who know nothing of his former troubles, he will be given an opportunity to make something of himself.

RIOTOUS MEXICANS.

Free-for-All Fight Follows Attempt of Cholo to Chastise Another's Wife.

Broken heads galore and battered noses irrigating the red fluid upon the sidewalks marked an incipient race riot among the camp of Mexican cholos at Fifth and Cecil streets last night about 9 o'clock.

The trouble started when Refugio Fernandes came home and found his good friend, Baldomero Jiminez, beating in the face of Fernandes's wife. The friends of both men quickly took sides and a merry war in which shovels and pick handles played an important and telling part ensued.

Law-abiding residents of the neighborhood sent in a hurry call for the police, but when the two patrolmen, who were sent from headquarters, arrived the Mexicans had scattered and were quietly nursing their wounds behind locked doors.

MODERN BLUEBEARD.

EVIDENCE IS STILL SOUGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Information has come to Inspector Cross that Frederick E. Carlton, whom he calls a "modern Bluebeard," once was a western rancher, and that he is wanted by the authorities of Utah and Colorado on two charges of murder.

In Utah, it is charged that a man resembling Carlton murdered two boys. In Colorado, a man of similar description murdered his tent mate. Carlton denies he has ever been in either of the States. His alleged double, George Wright, caused inquiry to be made by both Utah and Colorado authorities. Cross declares his source of information is such as to justify the fullest investigation.

Pardon for Moore.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William A. E. Moore, the husband of Fayne Moore, who was sentenced to Sing Sing prison in 1898 for nineteen years, was pardoned today. He will be released tomorrow, and come to this city as the guest of "Al" Adams, the policy king, who has promised to give him lucrative work in running a mine Adams owns in Mexico.

Tweed's Son's Suicide.

STAMFORD (Ct.) Aug. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By a death certificate filed today, it became known that George Y. Tweed, 40 years old, son of "Boss" Tweed of New York, committed suicide in the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane July 14. Tweed jumped from the window. His skull was fractured, and his neck was dislocated. He was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, in New York.

Coroner Inquires Into Gladys's Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—The Coroner's inquest in the case of Gladys Cunningham of San José, who died in the office of Dr. Frank Thomas, this city, was commenced before Coroner Leland this morning. Dr. Nims, the San José physician, who, with Dr. Thomas, is charged with the responsibility of the girl's death, was the only witness examined during the morning session. Dr. Nims's story did not differ materially from that told by him when he was first taken into custody.

SHOOTS SELF IN FLOODED CELL.

SEATTLE JAILBIRD HAS A MOST STRENUOUS WIND-UP.

After Dynamiting His Prison, Firing at Jailer and Incidentally Calling Out City Fire Department, Which Turns Hose Upon Him, Chesterfield Forestalls Trip to Pen.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 2.—After dynamiting the County Jail and entirely wrecking his cell, in hopes of being able to effect his escape, Jack Chesterfield, at 4 o'clock this morning, fired six shots at the jailer, who attempted to restore order in the cell, and then sent a bullet crashing into his brain. The wound, it is thought, will prove fatal.

Chesterfield was to have been taken to the penitentiary this morning to serve a three years' sentence for criminally assaulting a young girl. He had two revolvers in his hands and fired at everyone who approached him. He was completely barricaded and was able to keep the jailers at bay until the fire department was called out and his cell flooded. It was not until the man was standing in two feet of water that he gave up and shot himself. Game to the last breath, he never left his feet and was taken leaning against his cell, though a leaden ball had torn a hole through his head.

Chesterfield was secretly married in the jail three weeks ago. Since then his wife has been given unbounded freedom and it is thought that she may have supplied her husband with what she thought would be his means of escape, but which have proved to be implements of self-destruction.

Last evening the Yale lock on the man's cell was found so worn that the door could be swung open with little more than ordinary pressure. This was remedied, and it was not thought that any other plan of escape had been planned. Two saws were also found in the cell. The dynamite, it is believed, was concealed about his clothes. Three more sticks of dynamite were found in the cell this morning.

WIFE SMUGGLED IN WEAPON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 2.—The wife of Jack Chesterfield, or Chistopher, this afternoon appeared at the Sheriff's office and confessed that she had last week smuggled into the jail for her husband the six sticks of dynamite and the weapon with which he made his desperate fight.

Chesterfield is still alive, though with a bullet in his brain.

Collins Case Remanded.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Aug. 2.—The extradition proceedings against George D. Collins of San Francisco, charged with perjury, has again been remanded until Friday, Collins stating he could not argue the many objections he had raised during the examination of witnesses until the evidence is extended. Before adjournment, Judge Lampman decided that all depositions taken before Judge Lawlor at San Francisco were admissible, to which ruling Collins took exceptions.

Love-sick Man Kills Only Himself.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Charles Chieze, made desperate by unrequited love, vainly tried to kill Mrs. Mary Maples today. After two shots had failed to reach their mark, he turned the pistol on himself and inflicted a wound that proved fatal a few minutes later.

Four Boys Face Murder Charge.

Scherf Gets Life Term.

When Francis Murphy Came.

"I wonder how many people remember Francis Murphy's first visit here and what a furore he caused," said an old citizen to a Philadelphia Telegraph man. "Really, it looked as though the whole town would swear off. I do not remember just what year it was, but it was in the early seventies, and the revivals were held in the same old freight shed that housed Moody and Sankey and which everybody now identifies as Wanamaker's.

"The crowds that went to hear the delightful old Irishman lecture against rum were tremendous. I have a hazy recollection of his telling quaint stories of life in Ireland, and of pathetic incidents due to the use of liquor which came to his knowledge and under his observation. He had great quantities of pledges printed, and these were circulated broadcast throughout the city, and I know that many thousands of them were signed.

"But the one incident that stands out most prominently in my memory is the fact that in the crowd my first silk hat was ruined. I was a little chap, about 6 years old, and only the Christmas before my grandmother had made my heart glad by presenting me with a 'stovepipe like papa's.' It was about three inches high, and they were all the go for 'kids' then, and as a consequence all the other youngsters were dead sore about it. The hat got caught in the crush and that was the end of it. That's why I remember Francis Murphy."—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Mackay Was Posted.

The late John W. Mackay was attending to business at the great Comstock mines one day when a party of tourists approached and asked if he knew of a guide who would take them around. Evidently none of them knew him. Mackay offered to escort them and did so, explaining the whole mystery of gold and silver quartz mining. When they emerged the visitors clubbed together and made up a small sum for the guide. Among them was Andrew D. White, recently Ambassador to Germany and at that time president of Cornell University.

"Here, my man, take this," he said. "Your explanation of the working of the mines has been singularly clear and informing."

"Well, it ought to be," replied the guide, as he slipped the half dollar in his overalls pocket. "I dug 'em and I own 'em."—[Kansas City Journal.

I AM A MAN!

No matter how weak you are; how full of aches and pains; how feeble and old in your actions, you can be made a stronger and better man by wearing my Electric Belt while you sleep.

Pick out the men who have worn my Belt. See them with heads erect, chest expanded, the glow of health in their cheeks, courage in their hearts and a clasp of the hand that tells you "I am a man."

And how is it with you? Have you rheumatism and back pains, a dull ache and weakness over your kidneys, dull headaches, with a tired, stupid feeling? Are you losing your vitality? Do you feel yourself growing aged before your time? Are you nervous, sleepless, short of memory and lacking in spirit and self-confidence? Do you know you are not the man you would like to be?

If so, I can cure you. What you lack is just what electricity supplies. My Belt will cure you, and if you will come to me you will soon be one of "DR. McLAUGHLIN'S MEN."

I believe that the best evidence is the word of an honest man who says "YOU CURED ME."

Mr. James P. Davis, 709 Devisadero street, San Francisco, says: "Twelve years ago I injured my back in an elevator accident, which incapacitated me from labor for over a year, after six months in bed. Since that time I have not been myself. My back troubled me and I was weak. I doctored and doctored, without benefit. I heard of your belt and asked my doctor about it. He told me it was no good. I thought I would try it anyway, as the doctor could not help me. The effect was marvelous. After wearing it for three months it cured my back, and now I feel as strong and capable as any man, young or old. I cannot praise it too highly, and will advise every man weak or in pain, to use it and not be persuaded against it by any doctor."

Come to me and let me cure you. Twenty years of my life have been devoted to my trade, and I have made my Belt popular with people who are tired of drugging. I cure while you sleep. It's easy and pleasant. My Belt gives a current that is a glowing warmth. No burn or sting.

I have a nicely illustrated book which every man should read. I will send it closely sealed, free, if you send this ad.

Call if you can.

Why Horseshoe Paint Wears Longer Than Ordinary Paint

OIL is the life of Paint."

That is a self-evident truth.

Zinc carries more than twice as much oil as lead—more than twice as much life.

Zinc is the backbone that holds on and protects it on your buildings.

That is why we combine zinc with Horseshoe Brand Prepared Paint.

More than twice as much oil means more the wear with Horseshoe Paint because it is the chief preservative element in paint.

The oil penetrates the pores of the wood and with the zinc, forms a tough, elastic waterproof coating with a fine silky finish.

Lead alone reacts chemically on oil and soon causes "chalking"—the oil disappears—the paint is dead—the surface becomes lustreless, rough and porous—catches dust and dirt that discolors the paint and holds moisture that rots the wood.

We use lead to give

Horseshoe Brand Prepared Paint

body—better covering capacity and by combining it with zinc we overcome the "chalking" because zinc dries hard and protects the oil—keeps life in the paint, gives better, longer protection to your building.

Now the ordinary adulterated ready-mixed paints carry less oil—less life and are therefore even less durable than lead and oil because they are "doped" with adulterants which have no pigment value and are relatively no oil-carrying capacity.

So every particle of adulteration means just so much less life in the paint.

And adulterated paints are not cheaper in first cost because Horseshoe Paint goes much farther (requires fewer gallons) because the abundance of oil makes it go farther.

Also—that's the reason why Horseshoe Paint gives double the wear of lead and ordinary ready-mixed paints.

Absolute Purity—that's the reason why Horseshoe Paint gives double the wear of ordinary ready-mixed paints.

The proof is the Chemist's certificate of Absolute Purity on every can.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

WATER SHUT OFF AT KERN.

Santa Fe Oil Manager Says Wells are Saved.

Midway Extension Will Not be Delayed.

Shipments of Oil from the Pacific Coast Ports.

F. T. Perris, manager of the Santa Fé's oil department, makes the important announcement that the effort to stop the water on the petroleum development in the Kern River oil fields has succeeded, and those wells most seriously affected have been restored. The solving of the secret by which the water has been checked is saving the Santa Fé and other corporations many millions of dollars.

It will be recalled that the Santa Fé employed experts to assist Manager Perris when some of their best wells in the district were suddenly rendered useless by water flowing into them. Many months were devoted to the problem, which was finally partly solved by tracing the water to a well on an adjoining lease by means of aniline dyes.

Finding the troublesome well, though an achievement, was not all, the next and most important step being to discover a remedy. More months were spent, and now this perplexing question has been solved, and as rapidly as the water is pumped from one well after another their oil-bearing qualities are restored, and everything indicates that the trouble has now been permanently removed.

WILL BE NO DELAY.

The reports from Bakersfield of probable delay in the beginning of actual construction on the Sunset-Midway extension are flatly denied at the general offices of the Santa Fé in this city, where it is stated that there will be no delay further than such incidentals as may unexpectedly arise from one cause or another during the progress of any work. The stories that were sent out to the effect that the company desired to learn more about the properties in which it has purchased a half interest for $3000,000 are considered absurd in view of the fact that the matter has been under serious consideration and investigation for a year and probably longer.

The Sunset Railroad is owned jointly by the Santa Fé and Southern Pacific with the understanding that each is to take turns operating it for periods of three years. The Santa Fé whose time is about up, is understood to have reached a satisfactory understanding with the Espee and will continue to handle the line. Eventually, it is safe to say, it will become a regular Santa Fé property.

ENORMOUS DIVIDENDS.

The report of the California Oil and Stock Exchange at San Francisco for the month of July shows a record-maker for dividend payments, the total being for the month $397,930 as against $130,581 for June and $144,062 for May. The grand total for the entire period of the oil industry thus is $7,662,834, not counting local companies in the fields south of the Tehachepi. These bring the total up to probably over $8,000,000.

The dividends paid by most of the companies on the list were the usual monthly amounts and the enormous increase was due to the Associated's big payment of $276,948, which, however, was not payable until August 1, although declared in July. This makes the combine's total payments to date officially recorded, $552,896.

Other payments during the month were as follows: Caribou, Coalings, 7 cents, total to date, $62,592; Claremont, Kern River, 1 cent, total, $78,000; Four, Kern River, 1 cent, total, $149,949; Hanford, Coalings, $2, total $54,000; Imperial, Kern River, 20 cents, total, $980,000; Monte Cristo, Kern River, 1 cent, total $140,000; Oil City Petroleum, Coalings, ¾ cent, total $60,000; Peerless, Kern River, 14 cents, total $474,000; Thirty-three, Kern River, 10 cents, total $435,000; Twenty-eight Coalings, 15 cents, total, $153,000; Union Oil Company, 50 cents, total $1,672,676; United Petroleum, 30 cents, total $292,782; West Shore, Kern River, 5 cents, $125,000.

OIL SHIPMENTS.

Figures from the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, at Washington, published by the Pacific Reporter, show some interesting data as to the amount of oil and its by-products exported from the Pacific Coast ports, together with the amounts sent to Alaska and Hawaii for June. The total foreign shipments, measured in gallons in accordance with the government rule, were 420,000, or 10,000 barrels, valued at $14,000. According to the government statement this entire amount was shipped from the customs district of Portland, Or., which, however, shipped no by-products. Of naphtha, 15,524 gallons were exported, the value being $1621, divided as follows:

Alaska district, 90; Puget Sound, 709; San Diego, 2630; San Francisco, 12,-195.

Of illuminating oils, San Francisco shipped 17,682 gallons out of 18,318 total for the month. These were doubtless from the Standard's refinery at Point Richmond, and went mostly to supply the trade of China and Japan. Other shipments were as follows: From Alaska, 250 gallons; Puget Sound, 295; San Diego, 770. The total value of illuminating oils shipped was $3339.

Of lubricating oils San Francisco shipped 19,975 gallons out of a total of 21,467; Puget Sound, 3534; Alaska, 103; San Diego, 51; Willamette, 5. The total value of these lubricants was $5632.

Of residuum only fifteen barrels were shipped, all from Puget Sound. The value of these is given as $37, which indicates that they were of eastern oil.

Why Oregon should have been the shipping district for all the crude oil sent abroad on the Coast is not plain, and here the government statement seems to require explanation.

Shipments to Hawaii were all from the San Francisco customs district, and were as follows: Crude mineral oil, 2,-520,000 gallons, or 58,280 barrels, valued at $77,400; naphtha, 29,737 gallons, valued at $3294; illuminating, 130,258, value $10,447; lubricants, 11,641, value $2186.

Shipments from San Francisco to Alaska were as follows: Crude, 1,780,320 gallons, or 42,388 barrels, valued at $53,994; naphtha, 138,217 gallons, value $16,151; illuminants, 16,790, value $2541; lubricants, 5141, value $2154.

From Puget Sound shipments were made to Alaska as follows: Naphtha, 6,230 gallons, value $10,974; illuminants, 53,340, value $11,164; lubricants, 5141, value $2154.

During the month of July, 1904, the Los Angeles custom district shipped 420,000 gallons or 10,000 barrels of crude, valued at $14,000, to Hawaii, but since that time the shipment has gone via San Francisco. The Hawaiian and Alaskan crude trade is controlled chiefly by the Union and the Pacific Oil and Transportation Company, now the Associated. The trade in the by-products and refined oils is held by the Standard.

TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 19.—British workmen engaged in making furniture have become seriously alarmed for the future of the industry on which they are dependent for a livelihood by the great increase which has recently taken place in the importation of American furniture. Since the British manufacturers seem too much lacking in enterprise to devise any adequate means of coping with the situation the men themselves are taking the matter in hand. They are convinced that by existing British methods it is impossible to produce furniture at the same price which will equal in style, quality and finish the American products. Therefore they are going to try to find out what are the peculiar American methods which enable the American manufacturers to so far outstrip their British rivals.

The National Amalagmated Furniture Trades Association, which has undertaken the task, has just decided to send two delegates to the United States to visit the chief centers of the furniture industry there. The men chosen for the mission are James O. Grady of Bristol, the organizing secretary of the association, and James Meriles of Glasgow, who has charge of the affairs of the association in Scotland and the north of England. They are both skilled artisans and men of unusual intelligence. It is expected that they will encounter no great difficulty in ascertaing by what superior mechanical processes and economy in the application of labor good furniture is produced so much cheaper than in England. It will probably be a far harder task to induce the conservative British manufacturers to adopt similar methods. But some London furniture firms have shown sufficient interest in the project to contribute toward a fund for defraying the expenses of the delegates. Before starting for America they will pay a visit to Paris where it is reported that American furniture is finding a ready sale. It is expected that they will reach America some time during the first week in August.

PAST SEVENTY AND FULL OF ROMANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edmiston, aged 71 and 72, married yesterday.

WITH the last rays of life's sun slanting over their heads a dear old white-haired couple took the matrimonial vows yesterday.

A breath of lavender and old silks and laces and over this pretty nuptial ceremony of Mrs. Elizabeth Mather and Richard Edmiston, and romance tinged their affair, for it's only twelve months since they met. Indeed, it was love at first sight, and no wonder, for a sweeter, more dimpled and snowy-haired bride couldn't easily be found.

Mrs. Edmiston is just 72, and her husband is 71.

The wedding took place yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, with Rev. John Thursby of the Church of the Ascension officiating, at the home of the bride's daughter, Mrs. E. Geary, of No. 807 North Soto street.

A bower of greenery and flowers was erected where the bridal couple plighted their troth. They were attended by William Mather, son of the bride, as best man, and Miss Katherine Edmiston, youngest daughter of the groom, as maid of honor.

The bride was attired in a grown of lavender satin trimmed with rare old lace and crowning her soft white hair was a tiny bonnet of lace with a touch of violet about it. In her hand she carried a cluster of pink roses and ferns. Miss Edmison wore pale gray with embroidered trimmings.

After the wedding a breakfast was served, where the children and grandchildren sat with the happy bridal pair. Pink roses and ferns graced the banquet.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston are English, having come from "the old country" nearly twenty years ago, and both have crossed the water just seven times on visits to their dear ones.

Mr. Edmiston was a well-known business man of London, and twenty years ago his name was prominent, for he was a director in the Leeds Coöperative Industrial Association in Liverpool, one of the largest associations of its kind in the world. He is an inventor, and among inventions of his is the Edmison automatic shaft oiler, a device which is used very generally. He was much interested in church work in England, too, being superintendent of the Sunday-school of one of the large churches of Liverpool. He has been in Los Angeles about four years, and is a seed salesman in this city. Among the groom's children who were present at the wedding were Richard Edmiston, Jr., William Edmiston, Benjamin Edmiston of San Diego, Mrs. A. Birch and Miss Katherine Edmiston.

The bride's children present were William Mather and Mrs. James Geary, and a grandson, Ernest Geary.

Mrs. Edmiston, before coming to Los Angeles, lived in New Bedford, Mass., and has lived here but two years, and only a year ago did she meet the ideal of her heart. A happier couple might not be easily found.

The glee of procuring the marriage license still shone in the groom's eyes yesterday.

"We certainly had a great time," he said. "They wouldn't believe we wanted a marriage license. Said they thought it must be for our grandchildren.

"Oh, yes, we enjoyed it immensely, fooling them and seeing their incredulous eyes."

Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston left yesterday afternoon for the beaches, and will stop in Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, and expect to spend about two weeks on their honeymoon. On their return they will make their home on Vernon avenue for the present, and later the groom intends building a fine home for his bride on the East Side.

Great Things in Store for the City.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The leading of the waters of the Owens River and tributaries to these south lands is an immense project. It will be a splendid achievement of engineering, and when finished will prove to be an ever-increasing wonder worker. Its vast importance will be revealed more and more as the coming years roll by. In the minds of thousands of citizens it has already changed the boasted possibilities of Los Angeles into assured certainties.

It will make Los Angeles a great and powerful and beautiful city. It will make Los Angeles county one of the richest, most fruitful and most populous districts in the world.

Ultimately it will change somewhat the climate of this immediate section; there will be more summer rains, and the atmosphere be slightly cooler. Even the life and character of the people will be considerably affected by the magic influence. They will be a peculiarly prosperous, independent, cultivated and happy people.

For the people of Los Angeles county this enterprise is grander, more momentous than is the Panama Canal for the nation.

All honor and all good to Eaton, who conceived and so patiently advocated and pursued the prodigious plan; and all hail, too, to the engineers and members of the Water Commission who with such singular wisdom and fine management secured this great blessing bringer for our people.

GEORGE G. MULLINS, U.S.A.

Found the Factory.

An Irishman and some friends were passing through a certain town in Western America when the Irishman remarked: "Ivery way I turn there is a 'Cohen' on the doorplate, signboard or window. That family must be mortal plenty here." A little further on they came to a large mill in front of which hung a sign board, "The Cohen Manufacturing Company." The Irishman exclaimed, "Ah! I see it [illegible] they're making them."—[The Tatler.

A Great Opportunity.

I can sell you at wholesale prices, blocks or half blocks of lots at Riviera Beach, the finest sandy beach in Southern California. The Huntington electric cars will run through the tract in a few days; then there will be something doing. Be ready.

Lots will sell right now for double the price you pay, and the increase will be enormous. The price you pay for half a block is at the rate at which others buy a whole big tract, but it must be done today, right now. No time to wait. Come to my office today, right now, and see the map.

A VIGOROUS BARONET.

Adventurous Career of One of England's Picturesque Characters.

[Washington Post:] Sir Claude de Crespigny, although over 60, has started out again in search of adventures, and is now engaged in fighting black insurgents in the East African Hinterland, having joined as a volunteer the punitive expedition sent out by the British authorities in East Africa against the Sotiks, whose army is estimated at 10,000 strong. Sir Claude is one of the most picturesque characters in English life. He has been in turn a sailor—a fellow-midshipman of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford—an officer in the English Rifle Brigade, a cavalryman in the German army during the Franco-German war of 1870, a war correspondent, a champion swimmer, a steeplechase rider, and heaven only knows what all else besides. He has managed to break more bones in his body without doing himself permanent injury than any other man of my acquaintance. His catalogue of injuries includes two leg bones broken while ballooning, three arm bones smashed while out hunting, three ribs and a collarbone fractured while steeplechasing, another rib cracked in a cab accident in London, one finger broken by a horse, and two fingers which he broke on another man's face.

Two years ago he rode in a steeplechase with his son over one of the most difficult courses in England, the boy coming in first. He holds the Royal Humane Society medal for saving life from drowning, was bitterly disappointed when Blondin refused to carry him on his back across the Falls of Niagara on a tight rope, has figured as an amateur picador in a Spanish bullfight, was for many years the champion amateur boxer of England, and even presided at a hanging, which led to the inauguration of an unsuccessful movement to bring about his expulsion from the Army and Navy Club in London. He was made high sheriff of his native county, Essex, at the time, and, theoretically, the convicted murderers under sentence for execution are confided to the custody of this dignitary, who is likewise responsible, theoretically, for the execution. Sir Claude took his responsibility seriously to heart, and when a triple execution took place at Colchester during his term as high sheriff he insisted upon being upon the scaffold in order to see that there was no hitch in the proceedings. Fortunately, everything went off well. If there had been any hitch Sir Claude would assuredly have consideged it to be his duty to lend a hand. Some years ago Sir Claude came to financial grief, but quickly obtained his discharge from the bankruptcy court, and did not allow such a little thing as that to mar his spirits. Nor can it be said to have affected to any degree the fortunes of this ancient family. His son, Lieut. de Crespigny, a Victoria Cross soldier, will eventually be very rich, owing to the falling in of an immense number of leases in the northern part of London.

The Cummings Buy.

J. J. Vosburgh sells to W. E. Cummings, through the agency of the C. J. Heyler Company, twenty-five feet on the west side of Spring street, running through to Main street, with a frontage of 27½ feet on Main street by 190 feet in depth; consideration, $50,000.

Civic Alliance Will Meet.

A meeting of the Second Ward Civic Alliance, composed of representatives from all the improvement associations of the ward, will take place this evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the St. Angelo Hotel on Temple and North Grand avenue. A permanent organization will be effected and plans will be adopted for active work.

Real Celestial Now.

Mock Din who has lived for a year past at crib No. 14 in Ferguson Alley was homesick yesterday and decided that he would smoke an extra good dose of "hop" to carry him back to the old folks in China. The opium did all that he expected of it or more. He arived in China yesterday afternoon and crossed the Styx last night. Mock Din is a real Celestial now.

Optical Society Organized.

The Southern California Optical Society was organized last night at Burbank Hall, and officers were elected as follows: President, A. L. Apffel; vice-president, J. W. Fuller; secretary, T. N. Dychus; treasurer, J. C. Fleming; executive board, H. Hooper, Whittier; G. A. Picon, Pasadena; E. Steinman, Pasadena; O. G. Tullis, Santa Monica; L. R. Wolff, Los Angeles.

Central Union at Westlake.

Central Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet in Westlake Park tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The meeting will convene in the west end of the park, and an interesting programme will be given. This is in honor of the birthday anniversary of Lady Henry Somerset, world's W.C.T.U. president, and is also the Fresh Air mission day. This mission work was established by Lady Somerset.

Passing of Trusted Postal Clerk.

Morton Martin, a trusted clerk in the employ of the Los Angeles postal department, died at his home in Garvanza yesterday morning. Martin was a graduate of the University of Southern California and had a host of friends. He was a member of the Phi Alpha Fraternity. Among his associates he was a favorite and he was in line for promotion. Several months ago he was granted a leave of absence, but was never able to return to his position.

Embarkation Day.

The Knights of Columbus will celebrate Embarkation Day with an outing this evening at Playa del Rey. The affair is in commemoration of the anniversary of the departure of Columbus on his voyage of discovery. Special cars will leave the Fourth-street station at 7 o'clock this evening, and every ten minutes thereafter. The admission to the supper and dance at Playa del Rey will be to members of the order only, and their lady friends.

Hardison Home Sold Again.

Althouse Bros. have sold to A. Freese, for Merritt M. Allen, the fifteen-room two-story house, No. 940 West Washington street, with improved grounds, having a frontage on Washington street of 125 feet by 260 feet in depth, for the consideration of $20,000 cash. This is the third time within one year that this property has changed hands. H. H. Cox, who represented the above firm in the transfer of the property, has leased the premises and intends making it his home.

Many Visitors Here.

In July 101,370 persons called at the general delivery of the Los Angeles postoffice for their mail during the twenty-five working days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays. This is an average of more than 4000 daily. The summer average has usually been 3000 per day, but this month's increase shows that there are still large numbers of tourists in the town. The greatest average during the past tourist season was March, when it amounted to 5000 callers per day. The postal receipts for July, 1905, are $52,676.60, an increase of $6964.26—15 per cent.—over the intake for July, 1904.

Salton Sea Lower.

Conditions continue to improve at Salton Sink, where high water for some time has caused the Southern Pacific to take measures to protect its track and to build a "shoo-fly" connection around the seat of the trouble. District Superintendent Ingram received reports yesterday that the water is falling from day to day and that a great part of the temporary track has been completed. Trains are moving on time over the old track and at no time has there been occasion for alarm. Permanent improvements being made by engineers of the California Development Company soon will remedy the difficulty.

For Arroyo Seco Park.

The initial meeting for the purpose of forwarding the plan to acquire the Arroyo Seco from Sycamore Grove to Devil's Gate for a public park, attracted about two hundred people to the Mineral Park pavilion. A committee composed of one member from each improvement association represented, one from the Municipal League of South Pasadena and one from the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to work out the details of the plan and present its report at a public meeting to be held next Tuesday evening at Mineral Park. There is much enthusiasm shown for the park project.

Demented Girl.

"Quit yer kiddin'," is the only reply demented 14-year-old Frances Aldridge, daughter of H. C. Aldridge, of No. 207 South Union avenue, makes to all questions as to her identity. The girl was brought into police headquarters last night for the second time in two weeks, after having stood from 10 o'clock in the morning watching the excavation for the new government building at Temple and Main streets. Her father was notified and came in during the evening to take his daughter home. He says she frequently wanders away from home in a fit of dementia.

Bumped by Car.

While driving across the junction of Sixth and Hill streets yesterday evening at 7:45 o'clock, a man who refused to give his name, collided with a northbound Ocean Park car and was knocked out of his buggy and thrown into the gutter. The car struck the vehicle with great force and the man was hurled into the air and landed like a leaping bullfrog on all fours. The fellow appeared to be under the influence of liquor and his escape was miraculous. The headlight of the car was smashed. The man scrambled into the rig after mumbling something to the conductor and drove away. Inquiry at the headquarters of the Los Angeles Pacific Railway Company failed to discover the identity of the man.

Better Paid the Price.

The need of a new wheel and a pair of pneumatic tires for his smart runabout compassed the downfall of J. E. Baker of No. 148 South Park avenue and his arrest yesterday on the charge of burglary. Baker is an employé of the Los Angeles Lighting Company, and held a fairly good position, but he didn't like to pay the price for repairs to his buggy, when it was so easy to break into a storeroom of the Capito Carriage Company at No. 748 South Spring street and get what he needed for the taking. Detective Jones caused him much regret and a complete change of opinion when he arrested Baker yesterday afternoon while he was at work. At first the suspected man denied all knowledge of the crime, but finally broke down and confessed.
